Solid Waste forum Dec. 13

BY ED LEPOMA

The Hancock County Solid Waste District has scheduled a public education forum for 7 p.m., Dec. 13, to try to ease citizens' concerns about a landfill it wants to open in the rural Standard Community.

The meeting will take place at Hancock High School off Stennis/Airport Drive in Kiln, and the public is invited to attend.

Les Fillingame, chairman of the Solid Waste District, said he planned a slide presentation, and environmental experts will be on hand to explain the workings of a landfill, and what impact it might have on the area. They will also answer questions from the audience.

According to Fillingame, landfills are strictly regulated by state and federal laws, and produce no groundwater contamination or offensive odors.

The Solid Waste District already has under lease from the Hancock County School Board 41 acres of Section 16 land that is now being used for a rubbish site.

Last August, the District signed a 20-year contract with Trans-American Waste Industries Inc., of Mobile, Ala., to operate the rubbish site, and the firm took over operations from the county in September.

The District wants to purchase the rubbish site, plus another 91 acres that has been permitted for a landfill from the School Board. In turn, the School Board will use the funds to buy more land for Section 16 property.

In previous meetings with school board officials, and some Hancock County supervisors, Fillingame said it is time to move forward, and open the landfill.

The county currently hauls its solid waste to the Pecan Grove landfill in western Harri-

Ladner brings unique perspective to board

Editor's note: There will be five new faces on the Hancock Board of Supervisors come Jan. 2. This fourth installment profiles the eldest of what the Echo has dubbed, "The Baby Boomer Board."

BY ED LEPOMA

Lyonie "Jeep" Ladner will bring a unique perspective to the all-new Hancock County Board of Supervisors who take office next Jan. 2.

Ladner is a professional plumber by trade. He's been playing his trade in Hancock County since 1976. He is familiar with the soil conditions in the county, and knows the threat of groundwater contamination and disease is real in areas where septic tanks are used, or raw sewage is being dumped directly into ditches or streams.

For the past two years, Ladner has also been the county's District 1 representative on the all-important Port and Harbor Commission.

Ladner, 54, will be the oldest person serving on the Hancock County Board of Supervisors. He jokes the other new supervisors have already started calling him "paw paw."

And, where did he get the nickname "Jeep?"

"It goes back to my childhood," Ladner explains, "and has nothing to do with the fact that I liked Jeeps."

"I was in the first grade, and my older brothers were waiting to take me to school. I was holding them up because I couldn't zip up my jacket, and I couldn't say zip. I stood there saying 'Mama, jeep jacket. jeep jacket.' From that time on, they called me Jeep and the name stuck," he said.

Ladner, who resides in the Ansley community, defeated three Democrats, a Republican and an Independent candidate to win the District 1 seat.

Ladner said he's looking forward to working with fellow supervisors.

"I'm familiar with most of them," he said. "They all have good ideas, and good business backgrounds behind them. I think this will be a real good board. And, I'm ready to go."

Ladner was taught at Hancock North Central by the father of District 5 Supervisor-elect Philip Moran. He graduated with Moran's sister, Helen, and played baseball with Moran's brother, Dr. Carl Moran.

Ladner comes from a family that has been involved in politics in Hancock County dating back to the 1950's. His uncle, Claiborne Ladner, served as Chancery Court Clerk and Tax Assessor in the 50's and 60's.

His sister, Myrna Bourgeois, has served the last four years as superintendent of the Hancock County School System. Bourgeois was defeated in her bid for a second term in the November general elections, and Ladner's nephew, Jimmie Ladner Jr., narrowly lost the Chancery Court Clerk's primary to Tim Kellar.

"We all ran on our individual platforms," said Ladner. "I started feeling people out last March, and began going door-to-door around May. I wanted to hear their concerns."

Incumbent Supervisor Robert Peterson had announced he would not seek a third term to represent District 1, and he had appointed Ladner to the Port and Harbor Commission, but no endorsement was forthcoming.

That left Ladner facing three other Democrats in the Aug. 8 primary. They included: James T. Ward of Bay St. Louis, a mechanical contractor; Guy Graham of Bayside Park, a general contractor/carpenter; and Christopher "Packer" Ladner, a distant cousin.

Ladner led in the primary with 486 votes, but Ward garnered 457 votes and forced him into the Aug. 29 Democratic runoff. In the primary, Ladner drew his strength from the Waveland East precinct, where he has built up his reputation and business as a plumber, and from his homebase of Ansley. He also won the Arlington precinct.

Ward captured his home-based Lakeshore precinct handsly, and Clermont Harbor by only an 11-vote margin.

Ladner won the Democratic nomination in the runoff, defeating Ward by 35 votes, 573-538, but still had to face popular independent marina operator Tommy Bordages in the November general election, and Republican Pat LeFave.

Ladner emerged the victor in November, collecting 1,038 votes to 837 for Bordages and 329 for LeFave.

It was difficult to predict who might win the runoff because between the Democratic elections and the November runoff, there was a lot of publicity generated about the unsafe conditions of septic tanks being

Bay B&B up for approval

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Plans to put a bed and breakfast at 207 Union Street are up for action at next week's Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission.

The proposal concerns a two-story home under renovation as a five-bedroom inn.

The commission discussed the application at its November meeting, but took no action on the proposal from Dan and Nancy Henderson of New Orleans. The couple was told to define their plans for off-street parking which would be required if a special exception to allow the operation is granted.

Proposals for bed and breakfast operations have met with mixed success in recent years in Bay St. Louis. The city has approved applications for four inns, and rejected plans for three others. One of the approved inns is a few doors away from the proposed operation at 207 Union.

The Union Street proposal drew some public concern over off-street parking, and there has been an objection to construction of an addition on the east side of the structure.

City officials say a building permit was issued for the addition in 1993, within four feet of the property line. The commission took the position that building permit is still valid, because the owners had not been sent notice of its cancellation and work has proceeded on the project continuously since the original permit was issued.

Pass officials ponder request

BY ED LEPOMA

"Take my subdivision, please!"

That's a little dramatic, but the offer was made last week to Pass Christian city leaders, who still want to determine what future liabilities they might have if they act on residents request to accept streets in the Kittiwake Subdivision fronting Highway 90.

Merrye Lynn Brennan, representing the 14 property owners who live in a cluster of homes in Kittiwake, didn't exactly beg before the Mayor and Board of Aldermen last week.

As a property owners paying taxes, she "demanded" some kind of action. Brennan said the city indicated as far back as last January that legal papers would be filed to annex the area.

Brennan said the taxes of the property owners exceeds $10,000 a year.

"Should we withhold paying our taxes until this is resolved?" Brennan asked.

Legally, the Kittiwake Subdivision is within the incorporated city limits of Pass Christian, so there's no reason for annexation proceedings. The area is already furnished police and fire protection, and provided with garbage pickup. It is hooked up to city water and sewage lines.

The subdivision was privately developed about six years ago, but the city has never accepted its streets or infrastructure improvements.

Unless this happens, a Property Owners Association, similar to that operating in Dia-

BY ED LEPOMA
 Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson has announced several staff promotions, effective Jan. 1.

Peterson has appointed Nathan R. Hoda, chief criminal deputy. He will conduct all criminal investigations.

Sgt. Kenneth Hurd will serve as the county's chief juvenile officer, handling all cases involving juveniles.

Richard Fayard was named Chief Warden of the County Jail, and Larry Willis, assistant Warden.

Gloria Tartavouille has been named supervisor in charge of communications.

Charles Necaise will serve as the county's Animal Warden, and Jerry Beason was hired as mechanic to service the county's fleet of patrol vehicles.

Peterson made the appointments in a report this week to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

He thanked supervisors for their support of law enforcement in the county.

"Thanks to your support, we are in the best shape—equipment wise and personnel wise that we've ever been in," he said. I have appreciated your support over the last four years."

Mrs. Summers was a member of St. Roch Methodist Church in Waveland.

Survivors include his wife, Curly Summers of Catahoula; six sons, Joseph Summers of Boston, Glen Summers, Kevin Lewis, Samuel Lewis, all of Waveland, Kenneth Lewis and Henry Lewis, both of Catahoula;

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE
By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Very intelligent, reasonably well read and alert, my friend was perplexed when I mentioned the holiday blues and their accompanying anniversary reaction.

"Holiday blues? the anniversary reaction? I've never heard of that," she said hesitantly.

In almost four decades of life, she had somehow never been exposed to the verbal expression of something which happens to a clear majority of people around the holidays.

"I never thought of that," she added. More significantly, however, she quickly came around to realizing she had experienced it. "Even as we speak, I recognize in myself some of the symptoms you are talking about."

Yes, it's that time of the year again. The first volleys are fired way back before Thanksgiving time, when one or the other person begins speaking about the dread of approaching holidays. The anticipation is almost as bad as the event.

"I hate the holidays!" is the most usual complaint.

ON ETV

Bah! Humbug!

This season, ETV offers a dramatic and wholly original performance of 'A Christmas Carol,' Charles Dickens' classic tale of the miser Ebenezer Scrooge and his conversion to goodness.

'Bah! Humbug!', hosted by Robert MacNeil now retired from The MacNeil/Lehrer NewsHour, and starring James Earl Jones and Martin Sheen, celebrates the classic Dickens story with dramatic readings punctuated by a glimpse into Dickens' life and era. This special airs Sunday, Dec. 10 at 11 p.m. and repeats Sunday, Dec. 24 at 11 p.m.

Hancock Co. NAACP

The Hancock County Chapter NAACP meets the third Monday of each month at St. Rose de Lima, 301 Necaise Ave., Bay St. Louis. Meetings usually begin at 7 p.m. For additional information, contact the Rev. Frances Theriault, SVD, 467-7347.

"I'll be glad when all this is over. This is the worst time of the year for me." These and similar complaints will be thick in the air until well into next year.

The handwriting is always on the wall as to who will be victims of the holiday blues. Apparently, the largest of all the categories is the bereaved who do not want to experience any celebration without their departed loved ones.

This category becomes larger as we grow older, since we lose most of our relatives and friends in our latter years. Bereavement, especially when a death has occurred around the holidays, triggers the anniversary syndrome at that time.

However, as painful as this category is, it is less painful than a living form of death: loneliness, broken relationships, separation, divorce. To be alone, to feel unwanted, even rejected, is the ultimate sorrow during the holidays.

Compounding the pain of being alone is the risk or reality of being with someone who is verbally, psychologically or physically abusive. Just a cut below are those who live with people who constantly use them or get over on them.

To celebrate the holidays with any of the above as a backdrop is at best an anguishing hardship and at worst a total farce. Yet, this is the situation in which most people find themselves at one time or other throughout the year.

The homeless, the unemployed and the underpaid swell the ranks of the above-mentioned blues-stricken who find the artificial merriment of the holidays a cruel mockery. To them, all the emphasis on mirth only highlights their plight.

Thanks be to God, there is the usual help available to those afflicted with the holiday blues, in the form of radio and TV talk shows, often with a psychologist or psychiatrist. Lately, some businesses and associations are contributing.

Some funeral parlors offer annual holiday seminars with a psychologist. "American Hospice" sends a seasonal newsletter offering suggestions for coping with holiday grief.

"Change traditions," they advise; that is, take a trip, change decorations and activities, take time for yourself.

Don't withdraw. Don't medicate. Don't ignore holidays. Buy flowers for your church in memory of the deceased.

Above all, stay close to Jesus, the Reason for the Season.

by residents of Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore and Ansley. State health officials threatened to fine those accused of dumping raw sewage into nearby ditches and streams.

And, the county's Wastewater District got the go-ahead from the Board of Supervisors to begin holding public hearings on plans to embark on a $10 million project to link Pearlington and the remaining areas of Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor to the county's sewage system.

Ladner was out in his district, explaining the plans to residents.

"I'm a plumber, by trade," he said. "I've been in this business all my life. I've seen the kids playing in the ditches filled with raw sewage. They can get all kinds of infections, if they have just a small cut on their leg or foot and play in that stuff."

"I know the water table in the area, and I know it's a matter of time before the seepage from septic tanks will affect the groundwater," Ladner adds.

It will cost citizens to run a line from their home to hook up to the sewage system, and about $35 a month thereafter for the grinder pump that will send the raw sewage to a nearby treatment plant.

"I tried to show them it might be a hardship at first, but it will benefit them in the long run," said Ladner. "Ultimately, it will protect them from disease and it will increase property values."

Ladner said state and federal environmental and health regulations, will mandate treatment of raw sewage if the county doesn't proceed.

He plans to be at the Board of Supervisors meeting Dec. 15 when a public hearing is scheduled on the project, and he invited citizens to "come out and hear the facts."

Ladner also feels as strongly about a countywide zoning ordinance.

On zoning, he said, "It's going to be a great thing for the county. It's not going to hurt anybody. In fact, it's going to increase property values."

Without zoning, Ladner explains, "People can put up a $100,000 house, and the person next door can put up a business, a junkyard or anything else he wants."

"Likewise, he said, "building codes are needed to make sure construction in the rural areas adheres to plumbing, electrical and other building standards."

Ladner said the last two years he's served on the Port and Harbor Commission has also helped him to believe in the potential of Hancock County.

"I've learned a lot about budgeting, and what it costs for upkeep and to keep improving the Industrial Park at Port Bienville and Stennis Airport."

"That's where our county's future lies, and we have got to constantly upgrade both of the facilities to stay competitive," said Ladner.

He said he will work with other supervisors and the Port and Harbor Commission to attract new industry to both sites. He said he already has "some good leads."

Ladner said his other priorities will be improved roads and drainage, especially in his district, which is the lowest area of the county.

"We want to get the drainage in and working before we spend money blacktopping roads," Ladner said. He said the proposed sewage system "will help raw sewage from flowing in ditches in front of people's homes."

Ladner also favors a county marina, which is proposed for the foot of Pleasure Street.

"If we can get an agreement on the appraised value, and the owner agrees to sell, I think it is a good location," said Ladner.

He said the county needs a marina even though Bay St. Louis and Waveland have proposed their own.

"We still have a lot of people who maintain camps out there (Bayou Caddy). They come in on weekends and would use the marina and pay us good money to dock their boats," he said.

Looking back at the campaign, Ladner said he also wished Mississippi would adopt an open primary. He said, "Nine out of 10 people I've talked to prefer it. And, it would save the state a lot of money."

"You're out there campaigning (for the Democratic nomination) for months, and the others and the Independents are out there laying on a limb."

"It's like a boxer that has already gone two rounds, but now he has to go a third, and they throw in fresh meat."

Ladner said he plans to keep a hand in his plumbing business while serving as supervisor, but 31-year-old son, Lyonie Jr., will run things on a day-to-day basis.

Pass

mondhead and in Pass Christian Isles, would be responsible for raising the money to repair any streets or utility lines in the area.

Brennan said the developer, now deceased, told buyers they would own the streets when they bought their homes, but they were not told the sewer and water lines would be private too.

She said, "As you can imagine, maintenance of these systems is not something we want to have."

Brennan said Pass Christian is already getting taxes from the Kittiwake property owners, so any future costs for keeping streets and utility lines in repair should be borne by the city, not by the homeowners.

She said Kittiwake homeowners had approached former Mayor Ted Lawyer last January about dedicating the streets and utilities to the city and Lawyer told them he would proceed.

Brennan said Lawyer gave his approval to accept the subdivision last July, but city attorney Malcolm Jones had never filed the legal paperwork, although the city had hired an engineer to inspect the area, and make a report.

Mayor Billy McDonald promised a decision on the request at the January meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

"I have nothing against accepting Kittiwake. I just want to make sure we are not accepting more trouble. Before we accept it, it must be brought up to standard with no additional cost to the city," said McDonald.

Later, McDonald furnished the Echo with a copy of an engineer's inspection of Kittiwake, made recently at the request of the city attorney.

John Compton, with the firm of Carner Russell and Associates, Gulfport, said he recently revisited the private development on Highway 90 to assess how the existing street and drainage compare with normal city standards.

"Overall, I found their condition to be about average for a system of approximately six years in age...and serviceable as-is for at least a few more years before drastic remedial work would be required," Compton said.

Compton, however, did point out "a few deficiencies which the city may want to have corrected before accepting the streets for maintenance."

Compton said there was some evidence of deterioration of the street along the east-west portion of Least Tern Drive, obviously caused by a high ground water level in the area.

He said the problem is common in that part of the city, and could be corrected by installing subsurface drains along the edge of the street at a cost of about $3,500.

Compton said the asphalt surface throughout the development "is weathered and cracked." He estimated the cost to overlay the entire surface of Least Tern would be $3,000, and another $3,000 to overlay Kittiwake.

He also noted that some of the drainage grates over the drainage structures situated along the west property line were fabricated of plain steel, rather than more durable cast iron. He said these would soon need replacing with cast iron grates at a cost of around $1,000.

Compton said there are two privately maintained street lights at the north corner of the loop, and the monthly charge for these could be transferred to the city without any additional installation charges.

But, he said, "There is an apparent need for two additional street lights at the intersection of Least Tern and Highway 90 and at Kittiwake and 90."

He said the power company could run overhead power lines, but if residents prefer that the power line feeds to these two street lights be run underground, installation would cost between $2,000 and $8,000.

Aldermen Gene Rogers, Margaret Jean Kalif and Jeff Emerson agreed with the Mayor that they want to accept the subdivision.

But, they said the Mayor was right to wait and make sure the city and residents are protected when a transfer is made.

In the debate over Kittiwake, McDonald said he wanted to make sure that residents realized any improvements they need might have to wait.

"This city is on the threshold of being broke," McDonald said. He said the city has borrowed $600,000 so far this year, "and we might have to borrow $200,000 more" to keep the city running."

Pass Christian has taken out a short-term $1 million loan with Hancock Bank in anticipation of estimated tax revenues, McDonald explained. When tax revenues start coming in by March, McDonald said the city will repay the loan at a negotiated 4.7 percent interest rate.

"It's not an unusual thing. A lot of municipalities do it," said McDonald.

Waste

son County at a cost of about $20 a ton. Fillingame has pointed out that the county's contract expires next March, and Waste Management Inc., which operates the facility could double the price it now charges Hancock County to dump.

Fillingame has contended that opening a county landfill at Standard would reduce the county's cost by half, to $10 a ton, and the county would reap an addition $7 to $8 million over the next 20 years from garbage hauled in from nearby municipalities in Mississippi and Louisiana.

Fillingame said the county has spent in excess of $100,000 so far on the soil testing and other requirements that were needed to get the landfill permit.

Trying to find a new site, and starting the whole permitting process over again would cost hundreds of thousands more, and could tax another five to six years, Fillingame has said.

At least two incumbents defeated in the November general elections said misinformation about Standard contributed to their defeat.

Republican State Sen. Bill Johnson, who lost his seat to Scottie Cuevas, a Democrat, said his opponents in the primary and general election made the landfill a campaign issue because he worked for Compton Engineering, which did design work for the landfill.

And, District 3 Supervisor Howard Lizana, a Democrat, who was defeated in the general election by Republican challenger Lisa Cowand, also believes he lost some votes over Standard, which is in his District, even though he has opposed turning over the landfill to a private operator.

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Tonight Waveland's big Celebration of Lights and Christmas Card Lane will take place 6-8 p.m. on Coleman Avenue and Mollere Drive.

A Christmas tree lighting will kick-off events at 6 p.m. on Coleman Avenue.

I visited the event for the past several years and really enjoyed the special Waveland activities.

There will be all types of entertainment with local coral groups, such as the St. Clare Adult Choir and Waveland Elementary Chorus on the steps of City Hall. Merchants along Coleman will host open houses and serve holiday refreshments and goodies.

There will be two trolleys, sponsored by Hancock and Merchants Banks taking passengers to view the beautifully decorated homes on Christmas Card Lane and Christmas Door Lane.

The trolleys will both depart from the parking lot on Beach Boulevard at Coleman Avenue.

A finale for the night will be the lighting of the big Christmas bonfire by Santa Claus at Beach Boulevard and Coleman.

I hope to see you on Coleman Avenue tonight.

A Holiday Open House is set this afternoon from 1-4 p.m. at the Hancock County Welcome Center on Interstate 10.

This will be a time to enjoy the the beautiful decorations and delightful choral concerts as area church choirs and Welcome Center staff show visitors what the holiday season is all about in Hancock County.

I know there are some of you who have never taken the time to visit our Welcome Center. This would be a good opportunity to do so and enjoy some special Christmas festivities.

Tonight will be the annual Hanging of the Greens at the Main Street United Methodist Church, Main Street, Bay St. Louis at 6 p.m.

It will be a time to enjoy the sights and sounds of the Christmas season, featuring old-time Christmas caroling and performances by the Children's Hand Bell Choir and professional singing group 4 All 2 Hear.

Admission is free. A reception will be held immediately following the celebration.

Also tonight from 5-7 p.m. at Diamondhead will be the Christmas Twilight Tour of Homes, sponsored by the Diamondhead Garden Club.

This is a time when several Diamondhead area homes open their doors to show off their Christmas finery.

Tickets are $5 each and can be obtained from any garden club member.

The above are just a few of the many local events happening today, and several others are planned within the next few days.

One of these will be on Thursday night when the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce After Hours will be held from 5-7 p.m. at Adams Loraine Flower Shop on Ulman Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

In our area we have so many pine and live oak trees, one does not get much of an opportunity of viewing the Fall leaf color changes.

I don't know whether it was me just looking for color changes this year, but I have really seen some very good displays about the Bay-Waveland area.

The popcorns, sweetgums and several other hardwoods really gave a good display over the past several weeks.

The thing which amazes me is, we would have some of the best looking trees in this country for Christmas if they would not turn brown and have bare limbs.

I am talking about the cypress trees which grow very well in our area and have such a beautiful shape and design.

The only problem is that they turn brown and become bare before Christmas arrives.

Many of these trees have been planted in recent years about the area on beautification projects.

Of course when I was a youngster, a good pine tree was our Christmas tree, and plenty were available.

We did get a nice cedar from the Logtown area one time, and I can remember us having to use leather gloves to place the ornaments, as it had so many stickers.

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

American dream vs. American debt

What has been at stake in the budget battles in Washington over the past few days is an effort by Congress to stop the deficit spending and tax increases that the American taxpayers have been dealt repeatedly over the past 40 years.

President Clinton wants the Congress to raise the federal debt over $5 trillion for the first time in history. Congress refuses to raise the permanent debt until an agreement has been reached to balance the budget, cut federal regulations, and reduce the tax burden over the next seven years.

The President uses as his major weapon the scare tactic of medicare. The goal of the Congress is to save medicare so that the elderly to today and tomorrow will be able to benefit from it. In fact, if action is not taken, medicare will face bankruptcy sometime shortly after the turn of the century.

Even next year there will be more money going out of the medicare trust fund than coming in. If the system begins losing money next year, it makes no sense to increase its costs at the same time by lowering premiums and accelerating its fiscal problems.

Reforms and controls on fraud and abuse in the medicare system are absolutely essential. The Congressional program does not cut medicare, it simply limits the rate of growth and gives our elderly choices in how their health care is provided.

The government shutdown Nov. 14 was totally unnecessary. Everybody in Washington knows how an agreement can be worked out, including the President, and that is by dedicating ourselves to a balanced budget in seven years.

In the beginning of the year, President Clinton submitted a budget that was not balanced because he said he opposed a balanced budget. Then after the House and Senate passed a budget which will reach balance in seven years, the President submitted a budget which he said will reach balance in 10 years (which according to the Congressional Budget Office, it will not). Since then he has said it could be done in nine, eight, or maybe even seven years.

Yet the President refuses to even talk seriously with Congressional leaders. In fact over the last two months there have been only three meetings between the President and Congressional leaders. In deadlocks like this in the past, presidents have had to step up and lead.

That is what we need so desperately now.

This dispute is not Republicans versus Democrats, or the Congress versus the President. It is between the tax and spend status quo and the hard-working American taxpayers. The government should be required to live within its means just like every American family.

What we are talking about is the American dream for our children: a strong economy, lower interest rates, more jobs, less tax burden, and less regulatory burden. In short, less government and more freedom.

If we do not control the spending now, what we will have instead will be a back-breaking American debt for our children. As of now, every child born faces a debt of $187,000 just to pay the interest on our national debt. This is grossly unjust.

We have the opportunity. The time to get this job done is now.

To The Bay St. Louis Community

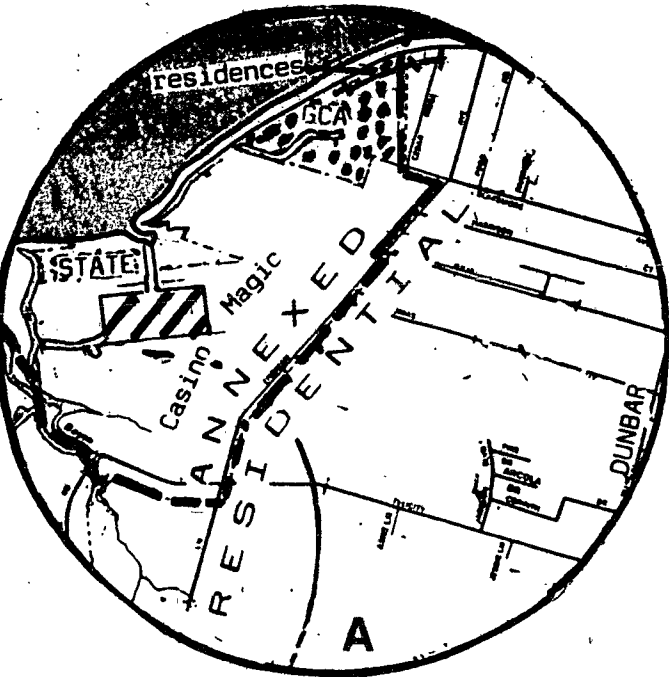

After a Public Hearing on September 30th, the Planning and Zoning Commission submitted a Comprehensive Development Plan to the City Council of Bay St. Louis. This plan is for the next 25 years. The Council is now reviewing it and upon completion will send it to the Mayor for final approval.

Q: What is a Comprehensive Plan?

A: A Comprehensive Plan is a basis for directing the development and economic growth of our city over the next 25 years. The plan decides the use of land within the city limits for use commercially, residentially or for public use. The plan is designed to guide in zoning undeveloped areas and rezoning of properties currently in use. It includes a plan for widening present streets and adding new ones to facilitate a free flow of traffic. There is also a capital improvements estimate for expenditures for parks, equipment such as fire trucks, the streets, public buildings, sewage and storm drainage.

Q: Why should I be concerned?

A: If you are a resident, property owner or business person, your property could be facing major changes in zoning and regulation. As a citizen and a resident, you should be aware of changes BEFORE they are incorporated into the final Comprehensive Plan. Learn as much as you can about the changes and improvements that could happen if the Comprehensive Plan is adopted as it is now. Make sure that your voice is heard in your City Council and by the Mayor. They cannot incorporate your ideas unless you state exactly what you want from the plan.

A. The Annexed Area

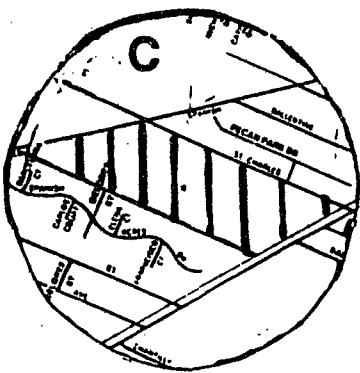

We recommend that:

The part of the annexed area not belonging to Casino Magic be classified as RESIDENTIAL in keeping with the annexed residences already along the shoreline and the vast residential area to the east in the unannexed area.

The marina on which the casino now floats be classified CASINO.

The remainder of Casino Magic holdings within the Annexed Area—the parking lot, the accessory buildings, the hotel and the golf course—be classified as RESORT.

C. Proposed Industrial Park

The Planning and Zoning Commission has proposed an industrial park in this area. Numerous nearby residents have already objected, lacking assurance that the character would remain residential. Therefore, we recommend that the area be classed as single-family residential.

E. Transportation Plan

We propose that the capital improvements required for the Casino Loop opening north of Highway 90 onto Drinkwater St. (y-y) should be paid for by the beneficiaries in the RESORT area served. We think the widening to 100 feet of the spur of Engman St. (w-w) leading north from Casino Magic is unnecessary. This road leads only to what we propose as a RESIDENTIAL area.

The Keller/Labat/Booker 100-foot route from Highway 90 to the depot (x-x) benefits both community and casino interests. We propose that the costs be shared. The 60-foot wide connection of St. Charles Street to Keller St. (z-z) likewise would benefit the city-proposed INDUSTRIAL PARK, the area we have suggested as RESIDENTIAL. We suggest sharing the costs if the INDUSTRIAL PARK becomes a reality.

In all, the Plan calls for some 13 miles of widened roadway and two miles of new roadway. Thus, many properties will become reduced in size.

If you agree with our objective to preserve the character of Bay St. Louis, please call Ms. Prychitko at 467-0976. She will be happy to supply you with any information about the Comprehensive Plan or joining our organization.

The Directors of the Bay St. Louis Community Association

Michael Hemsley, 467-0271
Ed. Michaelson, 466-2679

Paid for by the Bay St. Louis Community Association

Q: What can I do?

A: If you attended any of the neighborhood meetings in the summer of '94 or the September Public Hearing, you have already participated in the decision process. You can still attend City Council meetings when the Agenda, published the preceding Sunday in The Sea Coast Echo, indicates there will be discussions of the comprehensive plan. Your city officials can be reached at the numbers below:

Ward One	Chas. Scianna 467-4505	Ward Four	Tad Black 467-1775
Ward Two	Jim Thriffley 467-4138	At Large	Jim Rutherford 467-7666
Ward Three	Thos. Farve 467-6718	Mayor	Edw. Favre 467-9092

Q: What are the positions the Community Association has?

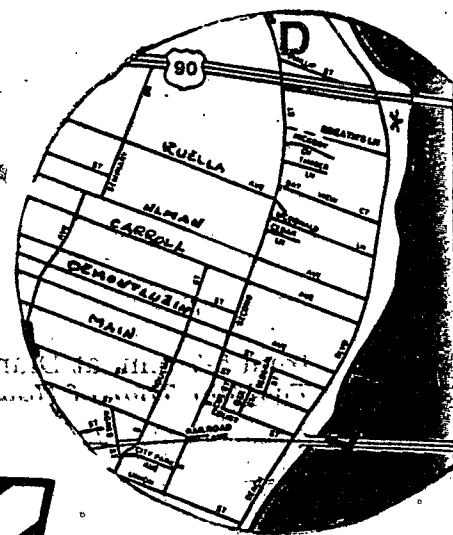

A: We want every citizen to make up their own minds. As an Association of some 300 members we have carefully considered the problems and reached a consensus. Your opinion may differ, but please express it.

Our positions can best be summarized by reference to key regions of the city as shown on the maps below. They are:

- A. the Annexed area in the Northwest of the city.
- B. the Shoreline.
- C. the proposed Industrial Park.
- D. the Downtown Area and the Beach between the two bridges.
- E. the Transportation Plan.

B. The Shoreline

More than half of the circumference of the city is valuable shoreline. If it is obscured by buildings, barges, and high-rise parking lots it will be irreplaceable. We believe that our shoreline should not be jeopardized by commercial or public developments except possibly for unobtrusive public beaches. The character of the shoreline adjacent to residential areas should be preserved.

D. The Downtown Area and the Beach between the Two Bridges.

The commercial character of the downtown area should be maintained for the community and visitors.

On the Bay side of Beach Blvd., the commercial area should go no farther north than DeMontluzin St. or farther south than the Railroad Bridge (□). Strict building height regulations should be established.

Any development of the shoreline south of the Highway 90 Bridge (*) would be inconsistent with the nearby residences.

Fitzgerald named creative director

Fitzgerald Advertising Inc. has announced the appointment of two new members of the creative department.

William D. Fitzgerald Jr. has been named creative director, and Richard Alan Baxter has been appointed senior art director.

Fitzgerald comes to the New Orleans agency from Godwin Group Advertising in Jackson, where he was associate creative director for a 12-person creative department.

A BA graduate of Millsaps College in Jackson, he has written and produced TV, radio and print material for clients in banking, media, packaged goods and health care. His creative work has received regional and national recognition.

In addition to Godwin Group Advertising, Fitzgerald has served as senior writer at The Ramey Agency and writer-producer at Communication Arts Company, both in Jackson.

Fitzgerald is the son of Mrs. W. D. Fitzgerald of Bay St. Louis and the late Dr. W. D. Fitzgerald.

Baxter, a native of Buffalo, N.Y., was educated in fine arts at the High Museum in Atlanta and completed his studies at The Fashion Institute of Technology in New York where he received his degree in advertising design.

His six years of advertising experience includes TV and print production as well as art direction and design at a number of New York agencies. He has been involved in national campaigns for consumer products and regional campaigns in the utilities, manufacturing and health care industries.

A professional sculptor, he has exhibited in New York and New Orleans.

Financial Focus

Consider taxes in your financial plan

(Editor's note: Following is an updated version of one of our previous columns.)

Did you have a capital gain in 1995? If so, you should know about the tax effects of capital gains.

Long-term capital gains (on securities held more than a year) are taxed at a maximum of 28 percent. Short-term gains, on the other hand, are taxed at the same rate as your ordinary income.

Here are a few suggestions to help minimize those taxes.

Tip Number 1: If you had reportable capital gains during 1995, you might consider taking possible losses prior to year's end. Because losses can be matched to gains, they might lessen or possibly eliminate an otherwise taxable gain.

Tip Number 2: You may deduct up to $3,000 in capital losses from ordinary income in any one year. If losses exceed that amount, carry the unused portion forward to future years.

Tip Number 3: Often, a taxpayer sells a security to establish a tax loss with the intention of replacing that same security.

This can be an excellent tax maneuver if you are careful not to be caught by the IRS "wash sale" rule. A wash sale occurs when you replace a security with the same, or nearly identical, security within 30 days before or after the loss sale.

Tip Number 4: Don't forget broker costs when calculating the cost basis, or total cost, of your securities. Commissions and other fees paid on purchase or sales can reduce your capital gain or increase your loss.

Tip Number 5: When selling securities, be sure to identify which shares you want sold. Because shares are often purchased at different times and prices, you can cut your capital gains tax liability by selling the most expensive shares first.

Tip Number 6: Keep a record of your mutual fund direct purchases and any reinvestment of dividends and gains. This is always included on your year-end mutual fund statement or supplemental investment activity page of your consolidated 1099 form.

Remember, these reinvestments are taxed in the year they are paid and are added to your cost basis. Don't pay double taxes on reinvested gains and dividends when you sell.

Tip Number 7: Find a trusted professional who will take time to explain these and other tax pitfalls. Before investing, consider future tax implications. Then, take full advantage of current tax laws.

These few suggestions will not make you a tax expert. They should, however, bring up enough questions so that you will consider taxes in your financial plan.

D'head tennis tournament benefits Family Child Center

By Liz Wagner Maio

Sixty-three Coast tennis players battled it out in the Subway Christmas Classic on the clay courts at Diamondhead Tennis World for a good cause — South Mississippi Exchange Clubs' Family Child Center.

The events played were Men's and Women's Singles and Doubles at three skill levels: A-Level, the most skill; B-Level, and C-Level. The winners in A-Level play are: Men's Singles, Brad VanderPol; Women's Singles, Lisa Wisniewski; Men's Doubles, Myron Labat Sr. and Myron Labat Jr.; Women's Doubles, Vicky McColister and Connie Skrmetta.

The winners in B-Level play are: Men's Singles, Robert Solomon; Men's Doubles, Dan Mitterer and Randy Richardson; Women's Doubles, Pat Shaw and Jare Williams.

The winners in C-Level play are: Men's Singles, Jonathan Nichols; Women's Singles, Christire Langevin; Women's Doubles, Sandy Kolodziej and Linda McGill.

"This is the first tennis tournament we've planned, and we plan to do it again next year," said Marie Porter, president of the board of directors of the SMEC Family Child Center and a member of the Orange Grove Exchange Club, which planned the tournament as a fund raiser.

"Our sponsors have been so generous and cooperative," Porter added.

Sponsors of the tournament are Subway, the main corporate sponsor; Hancock Bank, Diamondhead Super Market, Holiday Inn, All-Phase, Dedeaux Clans Furniture Factory, Coast Electric, Sonic, The President Casino, State Farm Insurance — John Bates Agency, Lawlers' Feed and Seed Store, Redd Pest Control, Ed Wheeler DMD, and The Peoples Bank.

The SMEC Family Child Center, now in its eighth year, is a child abuse prevention center that serves 13 counties from Jackson to Hancock and north to Forest County.

"The Key," Porter said, "is to try to teach parenting to high-risk families so they can stop the cycle of abuse and keep the family unit together."

"The problem we face now is future funding. All non-profit organizations are seeing a decline in government funding and therefore the local communities will have to become more involved in the financial support of the Family Child Center."

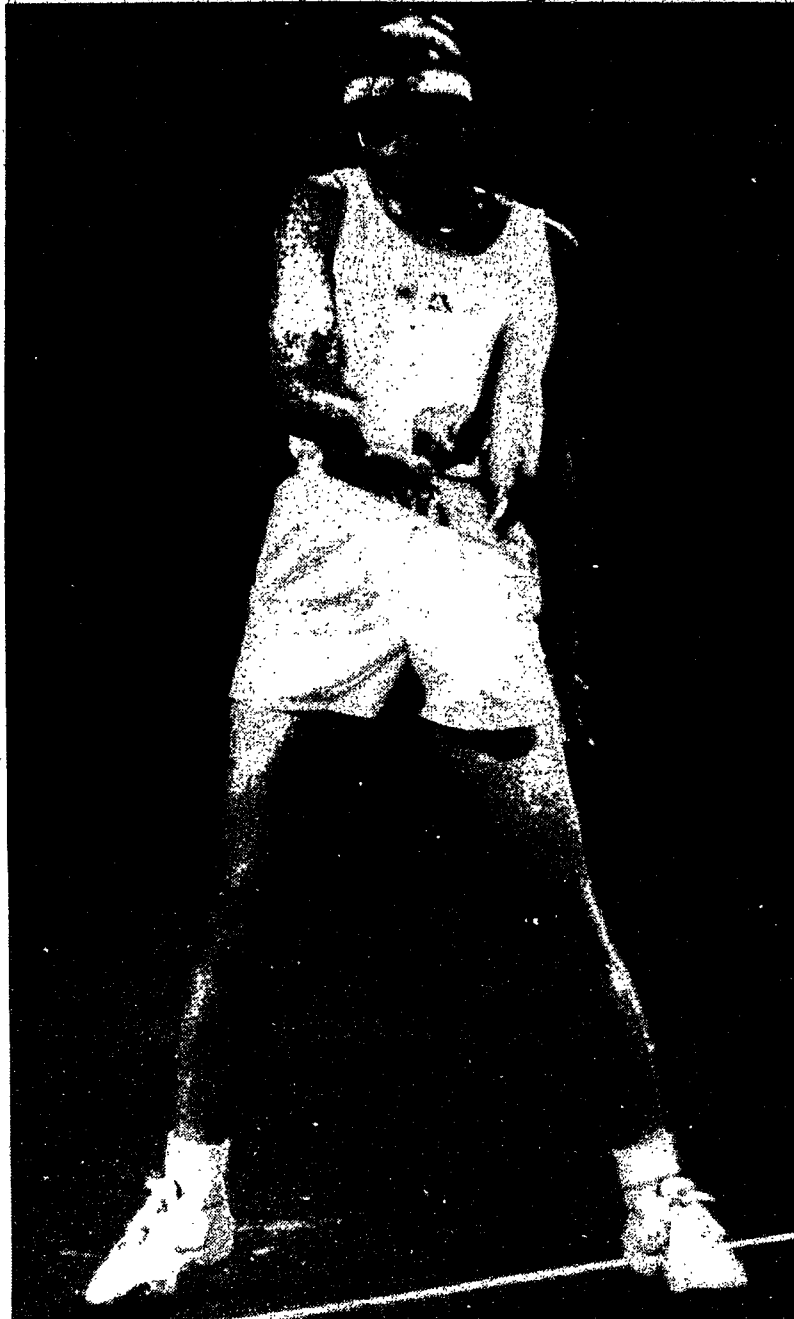

"Fund raisers like the Subway Christmas Classic Tennis Tournament and the Donkey Baseball (for the third year) in July are two ways to put some money in the coffers of the Family Child Center."

The staff of The Family Child Center has grown from one to a staff of eight professionals who handle all the services provided.

Some of the programs of the Family Child Center are the Parent and Program, the Court School Program; the Welcome Baby Program; parenting classes and the High Risk Youth Program. The center is a United Way Agency.

Cindy Ballman and Stacey Williams coordinate the tournament for the Orange Grove Exchange Club, and Ballman plays in it as well. She said, "The players have a lot of fun and they know it's for a good cause. They enjoy the food platters that Subway provides. I'd like to thank Mike Milliken, director of Diamondhead Tennis World and staff for all their help and cooperation and for providing this terrific tennis facility."

Still-hunting season begins

Deer hunting with guns but without dogs, known as the "still-hunt season," gets under way across Mississippi Dec. 16 and continues through Dec. 23.

The daily bag limit on bucks is one per day, not to exceed three per license year. Only bucks with antlers of four points or greater may be taken.

An antler point is defined as any antler protrusion that would hold any size ring.

Antlerless deer may be taken legally only on private lands. The antlerless bag limit is one per day, not to exceed five during the license year.

Legal shooting hours for deer hunting are one-half hour before sunrise until one-half hour after sunset.

Conservation officers remind sportsmen to have a valid hunting license signed and on their person before going to the woods.

Safety is a primary concern during deer season. Deer hunters must wear in full view a minimum of 500 square inches of unbroken, continuous daylight fluorescent hunter orange material (no mesh vests) during all gun seasons on deer.

Hunters and landowners are asked to report wildlife law violations by calling 1-800-BE-SMART. This telephone line is for violations only. General information is not given out over this line.

Lady Tigers soccer team wins again

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
The Bay High Lady Tiger soccer team shutout the George County Rebels 10-0 in high school action on December 6. This win pushed the Lady Tigers' record to 5-0. Bay High has shutout all five opponents this year. This is George County's first year in girls soccer.

Ellen Felder and Amanda Kingston each scored two goals for Bay High. Rebecca Dupuy, Ashley Ponder, Michelle Perniciaro, Rachel Perniciaro, Julie Heitzmann, and Mandy French all scored one goal for the lady Tigers.

Excellent defense by Renee Johnson in the keeper position kept the Rebels at bay.

BACKACHE.

The little pain that lasts and lasts.

Back pain often starts small. Sometimes it disappears; usually it returns; often it gets worse. If left untreated, back pain can linger for years as a nagging reminder that all is not well.

Your job may be the culprit; you may sit all day hunched over a desk; you may lift heavy objects; you may be constantly bending over, caring for children. These are common causes of misaligned vertebrae of the spine and may be good reasons why you have back pain.

And because the spine is a complex system which is connected to other areas of the body, misaligned vertebrae in the spine can also be the reason for tension, stiffness, fatigue and more specifically back pain and headaches.

Our doctors at HODA CHIROPRACTIC CLINICS are specialists in back care. They can restore spinal vertebrae to their proper position, relieving pain and avoiding further complications.

Make this the last morning your back is left untreated. See Dr. Desmond W. Hoda.

JV Rocks continue winning tradition

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus junior varsity basketball squad, coached by Jerry Spell, has been the "Rock" foundation of the varsity basketball teams in recent years. Spell started coaching the junior varsity squad in 1985 soon after he came over to SSC. Since then, Spell has had some strong teams and teams that were not so strong but due to his coaching ability were able to succeed.

Jr Rocks sweep Pirates

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus junior high basketball teams had a sweep of the Pass Christian Pirates on December 7 in Bay St. Louis.

In seventh grade action, the Rocks defeated the Pirates 22-20 behind the scoring of Renard Elzy who had a team high eight points. The seventh grade record is now 3-1 overall.

In eighth grade action, the undefeated Rocks downed Pass Christian 57-34.

Stephen Peterman led all scorers with 20 points while Zeke Davis added 16 points in the win. Kevin Woods led the Pirates with 15 points. SSC's record is now 5-0 under coach Stan Dellenger.

In ninth grade action, the Rocks downed the Pirates 60-51.

Tony Benton led the Rocks with 16 points and Paul Farve added 14 points. Michale Singleton poured in 12 points in the win.

Kentrell Bell led all scorers with 24 points in the loss and Jeremy Martin added 12 points.

The ninth grade record for the Rocks is 3-1.

developing a quality varsity program.

The proteges of Spell this year are Fred Lewis, Honore Hazeur, Derek Bradley, Jimmie Smith, Liam Fitzpatrick, Herman Dunklin, Lee Coleman, Geil Jacobs, Drew Ladner, Ashley Azare, and Zenas Cappie.

The leading rebounders on the team are Fitzpatrick, Bradley, and Smith while Lewis and Hazeur are tops in the assist category. Lewis and Bradley are the best defenders on the team according to Spell.

The top backups for the team are Dunklin and Ladner.

Spell prides his coaching on the dedication of his athletes and commented that these eleven players are some of the most dedicated that he has ever coached. The original team has had its share of problems as some of the members have decided to move on to other interests.

Spell elaborated, "These players always give 100% in each practice and practice on the weekends. Derek Bradley is the best young player that I have seen since Shannon Garrett. Garrett was the best that I've ever seen at SSC."

Garrett went on to star in football at Mississippi College and was drafted into the Canadian Football League last year by the Winnipeg Blue Bombers. Garrett was an impact rookie in the CFL and started all 16 games for the Blue Bombers.

Spell continued, "Honore Hazeur is going to be a great all around player - passer, team leader, scorer, and dribbler. Fred Lewis runs the team at the one guard and is an exceptional shooter. Lewis is extremely coachable."

"Fitzpatrick is easily the most improved player on the team. He has worked extremely hard to get to the level he is at. He should be an inspiration to any young player who watches him perform."

"Smith is the ultimate team player. He always puts the team first and himself second."

"Dunklin missed several days in the preseason and is naturally lacking in some important skills; however, if his defense keeps improving he will receive increased playing time. Ladner has made much improvement over the past year. He joins us late in the preseason since he is a member of the high school band."

The team's record so far this season is 6 wins and one loss. They have beaten some top JV squads in St. John, St. Aloysius, Hancock, Picayune, Oak Grove, and Mercy Cross.

Their only loss came to Pascagoula High School by one point 53-52. The team a few shots to win the game including being at the line with :01 left but failed to connect. At point in the game the JV Rocks were down by 12 points only to battle back.

Spell commented, "Losing to Pascagoula by one point was a disappointment but considering the size of the school it was an accomplishment. We would like to play them again."

Pascagoula is the largest high school in the state of Mississippi.

With the continuing development of young players by coach Spell, the varsity Rocks will look to have some strong teams in the future as they have had in the past.

The Rocks are the defending Division 8 Class 4A champions and were the runners-up the previous year. SSC has made two consecutive trips to the Sweet 16 of the state tournament.

Lady Hawks nipped

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The Hancock Lady Hawks were nipped by Mandeville 66-65 in the second round of the Pearl River tournament on December 7.

The Lady Hawks missed a jumper with :02 seconds to go to drop the game.

Hancock took a slight lead 14-12 in the first period only to see Mandeville surge in the second period to take the halftime lead of 33-26.

That second period surge was just enough to hold off the Lady Hawks, even though Mandeville was outscored by the Lady Hawks in the second half of action.

Monica Speights led the Lady Hawks with 21 points and seven rebounds while Jessica Pucheu had 13 points. Tina Dedeaux added 10 points in the loss.

Hancock's record falls to 7-5 on the season.

Lady Tigers win in Pearl River tourney

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The Bay High Tiger basketball teams played in different locations and had different outcomes. The boys fell victim to the Pearl River Central Blue Devils 71-63, the same team that they defeated for their only win this season. The girls squeaked by the Hancock Lady Hawks in the first round of the Pearl River, Louisiana round-robin tournament.

Against PRC, the Tigers fell behind in the first period 16-5 but made a second period surge to make the halftime score 27-22.

The Blue Devils were able to keep the Tigers at bay in the second half of action to hold on for the victory.

Desmond Robinson scored 19 points to lead the Blue Devils while Mike Robinson chipped in 13 points. Daniel McCurdy added 12 points in the win.

Ricky Soldine scored 19 points to lead the Tigers while Stevie Lizana added 16 points. Shaun Piernas scored 10 points to round out the double figure scorers for Bay High.

With the loss, the Tigers fall to 1-11 on the season.

In girls action, the Lady Tigers were able to hold on for the win against the Lady Hawks as Valerie Christmas scored 14 points and pulled down 18 rebounds. The win pushes the Lady Tigers record to 9-3.

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS

Lannum-Magee

Amy Carol Magee and David Scott Lannum, both of Lexington, Ky., were married October 7, 1995 at the Gardenside Baptist Church in Lexington. The Rev. Nathan Barber of Hattiesburg and the Rev. James Heard of Giffith, Ind. officiated the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Magee of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mrs. Mary Lou Lannum of Lexington and Mr. William L. Lannum of Richmond, Ky.

Nuptial music was presented by soloist Ronald Magee of Bay St. Louis, brother of the bride; and soloist and pianist Gail Heard of Lexington. The organist was David Dale of Lexington.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a designer gown of white silk shantung. The fitted bodice was overlaid with French Alencon lace embroidered with pearls and clear sequins and featured a rounded neckline which tipped to a deep scoop at the back with small covered buttons to the waistline. The lace-covered short sleeves had a scalloped edge. Creating special interest at the waistline was a band of inverted pleats in a cummerbund effect dipping to a slight basque above a full skirt of natural silk with chapel-length train. Her tiara-style headpiece was formed of matching silk and lace and had a fingertip veil of illusion. Elbow-length gloves completed the ensemble.

She carried a cascade bouquet centered with white lilies and including white bridal white roses, freesia, stephanotis, English ivy and fern greenery.

Pamela Magee Barry of Charlotte, N.C., sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Tracey Carver Clower of Jackson, Paula Cuevas Jordan of Gulfport, and Lanita King and Tracey Greer, both of Lexington.

The attendants were identically attired in formal gowns of navy silk shantung in a sleeveless style, each with banded neckline and draped bow at the V-back. Opera-length navy gloves were worn to enhance the chemise-style gowns which flowed to a fluted hemline. They carried cascade-style bouquets featuring stargazer lilies interspersed with complementary small flowers.

The flower girl was Julia Anne Barry of Charlotte, niece of the bride. She wore a tea-length gown in a white damask fabric with collar of silk organza edged in lace.

Mark Stacey Lannum of Lexington, brother of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were J. B. Jenkins of Cincinnati, Ohio; Banks Hudson and Michael Slone of Lexington; and Rob Woodring of Henderson, Ky.

Ushers were Brian Cheek of Louisville, Ky.; Jeff Hackbart of Lexington; John Mathis of Shelbyville, Ky.; and Michael Magee of Covington, La., brother of the bride.

Mrs. David Scott Lannum

Stephen Magee of Covington, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Champion Country Club in Lexington. After a wedding trip to Charleston and DeBordieu Island on the South Carolina coast, the couple will reside in Lexington.

recreation marina at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi and a $1.1 million Navy lodge at Naval Construction Battalion Center in Gulfport.

The funds for construction of both facilities came from the Special Oversight Panel on Moral, Welfare and Recreation Project Fund (MWR fund), not taxpayer dollars. The MRW fund comes from the sales to military personnel and their families at on-base shops.

A member of the House National Security Committee, Taylor has been working closely with members of the committee's Special Oversight Panel on Moral, Welfare and Recreation for approval of the project. The U.S. Department of Defense had requested approval for the release of funds.

"I am pleased that our committee was able to work with members of the special panel to ensure that these self-financed cooperatives at Keesler and the Seabee Base were funded," said Taylor. "Military personnel and their families pay for many of the improvements to their own facilities by shopping at these base outlets."

Taylor announces $1.9 million contract for Keesler

Two Coast military facilities are set to receive $1.9 million in self-financed funds from the U.S. Department of Defense to construct two base recreation facilities, announced Congressman Gene Taylor.

Taylor said approval was given this week for the construction of a $779,000 outdoor

Kane named local chairman for Fordice inauguration

Gov. Fordice has announced the appointment of Robert R. Kane of Hancock County chairman for the 1996 Inauguration.

"The inauguration has an official purpose, but it is also an event where all Mississippians join together to celebrate our state and its people," said Gov. Fordice. "Our inaugural county chairmen will help us ensure that Mississippians from all 82 counties have an opportunity to participate in this historic event."

On Tuesday, Jan. 9, Mississippi Supreme Court Chief Justice Dan M. Lee will administer the oath of office to Governor Fordice, who will become the first Mississippi governor to serve consecutive, elected

Hancock County REACT

Hancock County REACT Team 4929 is a Radio Emergency Association Communications Team that is making a difference in the community. The team's 23 members, who monitor CB channel 9 for emergency and motorist assistance, took 43 calls in the month of November alone.

They included 25 reports of possible DUIs/reckless drivers, six accidents, two structure fires, two vehicle fires and five motorist breakdowns, including a charter bus full of passengers in the wee hours of Thanksgiving Day. Each of these calls were reported immediately to the proper authorities or agency for further action.

They are a small, but growing group, dedicated to community service. The team has both long- and short-range goals in place. Currently they are conducting a toy/food/clothing drive to help the less fortunate this Christmas and displaying red ribbons on their vehicle antennas in support of MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Drivers).

They recently had two members complete a course for American Heart Association CPR instructors, and are conducting training drills for emergency and disaster preparedness.

You can be a part of this effort in many ways. The team is looking for additional members. They are also looking for donations of CB radios, antennas and other communications equipment. Money to fund the equipment necessary to set up a CB base station in all ten of the county's disaster shelters is urgently needed.

It is important to know that REACT is a non-profit organization, and the local team falls under the guidelines of REACT International. All donations are tax deductible, and membership is open to the physically challenged.

If you or your organization is interested in finding out more about Hancock County REACT or supporting us through contributions, contact the team president, Brice Philips at 466-0095.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club

The November meeting of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club was Nov. 9 at the Garden Club Center. President Crystal Burrows welcomed 15 club members.

Several committee reports were given: Maggie Musgrove, treasurer's report; Kathleen Kemp, membership; Alyce Newkirk, food pantry; and Thelma Kueck, Garden of the Month.

Committee chairman Peti Hyman gave a report on the club's plans for the March 1996 Pilgrimage Tour of Homes. The club will participate in the Hancock County Library's Christmas Tree project and has plans to decorate a tree. Mary Quinn reminded club members to take part in the Plant a Tree Project, which will continue into 1996.

Guest speaker was Gwen Perrate of Lorraine's Flower Shop. She shared her design expertise and created three arrangements, which were won by Alyce Newkirk, Edith Dantagnan and Thelma Kueck.

The next meeting will be a tea scheduled for Dec. 14 at the home of Peti Hyman.

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club's monthly meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ronald A. Hyman on Thursday, Dec. 14 at 2 p.m. A Victorian Tea is planned.

Navy at SSC to donate in 'Toys for Tots'

The Navy and Marine Corps are teaming up for a special humanitarian mission in South Mississippi and Louisiana. On Monday, Dec. 11, naval meteorology and oceanography activities at Stennis Space Center (SSC) will donate toys and games worth more than $3,000 to the Marine Corps Reserve's annual holiday charity drive, "Toys for Tots."

Marine Corps representatives from Gulfport, and New Orleans will pick up the toys during a 10 a.m. ceremony at the Naval Oceanographic Office. Navy Rear Adm. Paul G. Gaffney I, Commander, Naval Meteorology and Oceanography Command, and Navy Capt. W. Tyson Aldinger, executive officer, Naval Oceanographic Office, will officially turn over the Navy's contributions with the help of "Santa Claus."

The toys will be delivered to local community action committees and the Salvation Army for further distribution to needy children in Harrison, Jackson, Hancock, Stone and Pearl River Counties in Mississippi and Slidell.

Monday's ceremony will culminate a year of fund-raising efforts by the two Navy staffs, including bake sales, cookouts, raffles, car washes and a chili cook-off. This is the second year that the Navy at SSC has held a "Toys for Tots" drive. Last year's effort raised approximately $1,000.

Marine Corps Major Bill Resavy and Master Sgt. Bill Keller are the toy drive coordinators for the Naval Meteorology and Oceanography Command Headquarters and the Naval Oceanographic Office, respectively.

Great Books sets meetings

The Great Books discussion group will hold its December meeting Tuesday, Dec. 12 at 2 p.m. at 205 Farrar Lane in Waveland. Light refreshments will be served.

Colloquium look at poverty

A look at the different faces of poverty — the practical, political and personal — will be the focus of the University of Southern Mississippi's third annual fall colloquium, presented by the School of Social Work.

"Poverty in Mississippi: Critical Choices, Critical Consequences," will be presented Friday, Dec. 8 from 1-5 p.m. in the University Union. Dr. Tim Rehner, assistant professor of social work at USM, is organizing this year's colloquium.

The keynote speaker is Dr. Leon Chestang of Wayne State University, who will kick the colloquium off at 1 p.m. with a discussion of "poverty as a phenomenon that aggressively erodes social and personal well-being," Rehner said.

Following that presentation, a five-person panel representing Mississippi social service agencies will discuss their programs in light of "the 'new' efforts to reform Mississippi social welfare program," Rehner said. That panel will be followed by a second panel comprised of persons who have personally experienced Mississippi's welfare reform, Rehner said.

"The current national and state interest in dismantling social welfare and anti-poverty programs in this country requires Mississippi social workers to be well informed regarding issues (applicable) to those individuals living in poverty," Rehner said.

"Social workers and social activists need to consider how policy changes will affect availability and viability of current anti-poverty programs and resources."

A luncheon, scheduled from noon-1 p.m., precedes the colloquium and costs $8. Advance reservations are required to attend the lunch, Rehner said.

The colloquium is free, but advance reservations are requested to ensure adequate seating. Attendance can earn 45 social work units for those interested in continuing education credit.

For information or to register, contact the School of Social Work at (601) 266-4163.

Hospice program launched

The establishment of Quality Hospice of The Gulf Coast Inc., a non-profit care program for the terminally ill, has been launched with a professional interdisciplinary team to assist patients and their families in the six southernmost counties of Mississippi.

Hospice care enables the patient to remain at home with the supportive care of family and dedicated hospice professionals and volunteers.

Eleanor A. Rogers, CEO of Quality Home Health, which serves George, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Pearl River and Stone counties, said, "The hospice program is the realization of one of the company's long-term dreams."

Corporate headquarters are in Biloxi with offices in all counties served.

For information, call the corporate office at (601) 374-4434 or toll free, 1-800-777-4279. The office is located at 979 West Howard Avenue, Biloxi.

Christmas Happenings

Sunday, Dec. 10
HANCOCK COUNTY WELCOME CENTER HOLIDAY OPEN HOUSE
 1-10 at Hwy. 607/90, 1-4 p.m. Come join in the festivities at the Hancock County Welcome Center. Enjoy the beautiful decorations and delightful choral concerts as area church choirs and welcome center staff show their visitors what the holiday season is all about in Hancock County.

WAVELAND FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS
 City of Waveland, Coleman Avenue, 6-8 p.m. Coleman Avenue will be the location for holiday activities beginning with a Christmas Lighting at 6 p.m. and the arrival of Santa Claus. There will be entertainment throughout the evening in front of City Hall featuring local choral groups, such as the St. Clare Adult Choir and Waveland Elementary Chorus.

The merchants along Coleman Avenue will host open houses and serve holiday refreshments and goodies.

Two trolleys will add to the fun and excitement. Both trolleys, sponsored by Hancock and Merchants Banks, will be taking passengers to view the beautifully decorated homes on Christmas Card Lane and Christmas Door Lane. The trolleys will both depart from the parking lot on Beach Blvd. at Coleman Ave.

The festivities will culminate with the lighting of the Christmas Bonfire by Santa Claus at Beach Blvd. and Coleman Ave. (Coleman will be closed to vehicular traffic beginning at 5 p.m.) Don't miss this wonderful opportunity to enjoy the spirit of the season Waveland style.

CHRISTMAS CARD LANE
 Mollere Drive, Waveland, 5-8 p.m. The residents of Mollere Drive kick off the season in style with a visit from Santa. The Christmas cards will be illuminated each evening until Christmas for the community's enjoyment.

HANGING OF THE GREENS
 "Traditions of Christmas" — Main Street United Methodist Church — 162 Main St., Old Town Bay St. Louis, 6 p.m. Enjoy the sights and sounds of the Christmas season featuring old time Christmas caroling and performances by the Children's Hand Bell Choir and professional singing group "4 All 2 Hear." Admission is free. A reception will be held immediately following the celebration.

Literacy Center open house

The Waveland Library Literacy Center will host an open house during the City of Waveland's Festival of Lights on Sunday, Dec. 10 from 6-8 p.m.

"We are excited about participating in the city's Festival of Lights," said Prima Plaque, Hancock County Library System director, "and we invite the public to stop by and see our newly refurbished building and our tree."

Tree Gala winners announced

More than 500 people attended the Hancock County Library System's 1995 Holiday Tree Gala, held Sunday at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

Trees from more than 40 businesses, organizations and schools were on display for the public and will remain in the library until Thursday, Dec. 21.

Armand's Restaurant received the first place award in the six-foot tree category, with The Magnolia Tree placing second.

In the three-foot category, first place went to the Bay-Waveland Garden Club, and Peoples Bank came in second. Best overall tree award was presented to Your Personal Touch, and most original went to Gather Ye Rosebuds.

The people's choice award was claimed by Gather Ye Rosebuds, with Casino Magic placing second.

In the children's tree category, first place went to Coast Episcopal Elementary School, and second place to Bay Catholic Elementary.

The City of Bay St. Louis was presented the Civic Pride Award.

"This first Holiday Tree Gala was a huge success," said Prima Plaque, library system director, "and we hope next year will be even bigger and better. We wish to thank each and every one who participated."

ARTIN' ABOUT

ArtWave officers

ArtWave has announced the election of a slate of officers for 1996, with Lucy Gaines of Pascagoula as president. Vanda McCormick, Gulfport, is secretary, and Dorothy McLeomore of Bay St. Louis was named treasurer.

The officers will be assisted by juried show chairman Patt Odom; membership show chairman Rita Meadows; bulletin editor Judy MacInnes; and publicity, Proctor Taylor.

ArtWave is a regional association of working artists throughout the Southeast. Its members include painters, printmakers, sculptors, potters, and workers in mixed media. Founded in 1986, ArtWave produces an annual juried show that has become a permanent feature of the Gulf Coast art scene. The show is scheduled for June, 1996.

Songy exhibit and sale

An exhibit and sale of art and verse by Bob Songy will be held over for '96 at the Diamondhead Yacht Club.

"Meaningful Messages" is the premiere showing of the series of art donated to the Barataria-Terrebonne National Estuary Foundation, a 4-million acres system in Louisiana.

The exhibit is open to the public and free. Dark Monday and Tuesday.

Hillyer House

The December exhibit at Hillyer House includes "Coastal Scenes," watercolors by Mary Jane Cox of Louisiana; "Sea Fossil," cobalt clay pottery by Dana Bourdin of the Gulf Coast; handblown glass oil candles in pastel and cobalt colors by Stephen Beasley of Washington; goldplate sealife and endangered wildlife jewelry by Tracy Holzman of California.

Collection is on display and for sale. Hours are 10-5 Monday-Saturday, 12-5 Sunday. Hillyer House is located 207 East Scenic Drive in Pass Christian. Phone (601) 452-4810 for details.

Caribbean art

The cultural traditions of the Caribbean region, including the celebrated Carnival, will be explored in the New Orleans Museum of Art's newest exhibition, Caribbean Visions: Contemporary Painting and Sculpture, on display Jan. 27 through March 3 in the Ella West Freeman Gallery on the first floor.

BSLLT memberships

Memberships are available to the Bay St. Louis Little Theater, with several sponsorship levels.

For information, call Beth Benvenuti, membership chairman, 467-1402.

Submissions to Artin' About should be sent to The Sea Coast Echo, P.O. Box 2009, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. Notices will be edited and published on a space-available basis.

HOROSCOPES

December 10-16

ARIES - March 21/April 20

Let your soft side show this week. A call from an old flame gives you food for thought. A close friend needs some unbiased advice. Don't turn him/her away. A favorite movie kicks off the weekend right. If you overindulge on snacks Friday, plan to put in extra time at the gym Saturday.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

Controlling your temper brings you power at work this week. Both co-workers and friends will take you more seriously. Tie up loose ends on Wednesday. A new extra-curricular project is just what the doctor ordered on Friday. But make sure you finish what you start.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

Love is in the air for you this week Gemini. Don't be afraid to take a chance. Doing away with stress plays a major role in romantic pursuits. Financial setbacks come to a close on Thursday. But don't get too comfortable. Going off the deep end could lead you into hot water.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

Let bygones be bygones this week. There's enough to focus on without the meaningless exchanges of days past. A Scorpio sends you flirtatious signals at work on Monday. Read them carefully. A trip to a museum proves adventurous on Saturday. Why not take a friend?

LEO - July 23/August 23

Staying on top of odds and ends Monday and Tuesday could lead to a three-day weekend. Use your keen eye for detail to stay abreast of small matters that will pose big problems if left unattended. A shopping spree on Saturday gives you a head start on holiday shopping.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

As usual, work is not your source of trouble this week. But your personal life demands some direction. Think things through before answering questions on Thursday. And lose your cold shoulder in a romantic quarrel this weekend. Fight the urge to just walk away.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

A fire sign appreciates your efforts to talk things out this week. Explaining your intentions instead of getting angry gets you out of a rough spot on the romantic front. Money is an issue midweek. Time with friends is a must on Thursday. A water sign needs some TLC. Curtail your flirtatious ways if only for the moment.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

Jealousy could lead you to rash decisions on Sunday. Play it cool. Good news comes through the mail by Thursday. A new career door may open this week. Stay open to change. A Leo friend has some good advice as the week closes, but it might be hard to hear.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

Have you been neglecting fitness lately? Exercise is key for you this week. Not only will it help you get into tip-top shape, but it will let you release the stress that has been building throughout the busy holiday season. A surprising piece of news comes from an unlikely source.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

Ever heard of saying no, Capricorn? This week is a good time to exercise this right, because you're in danger of spreading yourself too thin. Take a load off. A quiet family weekend eases your tension. Pamper yourself with a special treat as the week closes. Get in touch with old friends.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

Stop trying to prove yourself in personal relationships and people will be able to see you more clearly. Special efforts on a new job are greatly appreciated. Impress a Sagittarian boss with quick turnarounds on pressing assignments. Creative ideas come easily.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20

Your mood swings are driving your family crazy this week. Take control. Figure out what's bothering you and take advantage of the strengths that only water signs possess. Feeling artsy? Writing a poem or painting a picture can help you express what you may have trouble admitting.

YOUR BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK

The next 12 months:

It's a great time to focus on love. Concentrating on what's familiar to you provides a strong center. Focus on the positive as the year opens, and those around you will catch on. An emotional tie to a Pisces might seem overbearing around February, but you'll learn to appreciate his/her honesty and depth by summer. Career might pose a point of change. For you, keep an open mind. Good things await behind closed doors. Also, an outdoors vacation in May strengthens old relationships while it introduces you to new friends that last a lifetime. Prepare for unexpected expenses by September.

USM professor defies gravity for experiments

By Bill Sutley

Floating effortlessly through an eight-mile-high aircraft cabin, Dr. Lon Mathias learned the serenity of defying gravity—all in the pursuit of science. "It was kind of like floating in a swimming pool, only more relaxing," the University of Southern Mississippi professor said.

Then Mathias' KC-135A, flying out of NASA's Johnson Space Center in Houston, nosed downward and purposely plummeted 13,000 feet at more than 600 mph. Suddenly, the trim, 160-pound polymer scientist felt like he weighed more than 300 pounds.

"It's like the worst roller-coaster ride you could imagine," he recalled.

But no, Houston, Mathias didn't have a problem—other than one brief bout with motion sickness on his first of 10 similar up-and-down "parabola" flights over the Gulf of Mexico from Oct. 16-27. He describes as "immensely successful" the three sets of "micro-gravity" experiments that he conducted, two of them culminating three years of research under a $300,000 NASA grant.

"We're very proud of our astronaut," joked Dr. Robert Lochhead, chairman of USM's international recognized Polymer Science Department. "I'm glad it's the chairman's job to keep his feet firmly on the ground."

Two NASA astronauts were aboard the KC-135A with Mathias, rehearsing a maneuver they later expected to perform in space. In all, about 20 researchers were also conducting about a half-dozen experiments through NASA's reduced-gravity program, which uses the KC-135A to recreate the weightlessness of outer space. It's also the trick that Hollywood used to get actor Tom Hanks and other "Apollo 13" astronauts floating through the recent hit movie.

Lochhead and Dr. John Pojman, USM associate professor of chemistry, collaborated with Mathias on the NASA-funded experiments. "Nobody in the history of NASA has moved this fast," Mathias said of the USM research. "Normally, you don't fly experiments until the fourth or fifth year... Trying to fly an experiment with NASA is like climbing a mountain. You just keep practicing and practicing."

Mathias went through plenty of "practice" just to get certified to take the experiments up. Earlier this fall, he underwent a rigorous day of flight-readiness testing at Tyndall Air Force Base in Panama City, Fla. There, he got a thorough physical and was subjected to several tests that astronauts also endure.

In one session, he was placed in an altitude chamber and the air was sucked out, recreating the feeling of falling from 35,000 feet to 27,000 feet. Then, he and the other flight prospects had to take off their masks and see how long they could last in the oxygen-scarce environment. Years of jogging a 5-mile stretch three to four days a week paid off for the 46-year-old Mathias.

"Two of us lasted five and a half minutes," he said of the oxygen deprivation test.

Mathias' main USM experiments focused on "Phase separations in polymerization... It's hard to describe in lay terms. You see, gravity causes phase separation... The whole goal is to understand the fundamentals so we can make better materials."

The experiments turn on the idea that, when gravity isn't present, the molecular weight of a polymeric substance increases.

"That produces bigger molecules," said Lochhead. "We kind of suspected this. Now we'll get proof. We'll be examining the detailed mechanism of why this happens."

Mathias also got permission to take aloft an experiment developed by Dr. Joe Whitehead, USM assistant professor of physics and astronomy, that dealt with polymer-dispersed crystals.

Mathias feels certain he will be taking more experiments aloft, particularly if USM wins renewal of its NASA research grant. In the next phase, he also expects to collaborate with Whitehead and another USM physics professor, Dr. Ras Pendey.

Kevin Thigpen of Ellisville, a 19-year-old sophomore polymer science major, accompanied Mathias to Houston to serve as "ground support" and to help prepare the experiments for flight.

"It was pretty intense," said Thigpen, who got permission to go after completing, in advance, all his homework for the classes he would miss. "It gives you a sense of pride knowing you had a hand in (the experiments)."

Mathias, a USM faculty member since 1981, remains enthusiastic about the flight experience and future experiments.

"Someone once said that the best kept secret in America is that good, hard, productive work is fun," he said.

MILITARY MENTIONS

Save time & money with Coast Windshield Repair

Are you tired of staring through a cracked or "dinged-up" windshield because you fear the cost of having it replaced? Well, fear no more! Call Joe Kersanac, better known as the windshield doctor, at Coast Windshield Repair.

Established in 1988, Kersanac has performed over 5,000 repairs on the Gulf Coast with his mobile service.

With the mobile service, there is absolutely no inconvenience to the customer. You need not be late for work or have to arrange for a ride while waiting for your windshield to be repaired. Kersanac will come to your home or your office and make the repairs on the spot.

The prompt, quality service is available seven days a week. Services offered include the repair of any windshield damage, including dings or cracks up to 24 inches in size. Coast Windshield Repair can also help in the removal of scratches in windshields.

Kersanac said in most cases, your insurance company will pay for windshield repairs, so there is no out of pocket expense, and there is no charge if you are not completely satisfied with the repairs. All work comes with a written guarantee that the cracks will not spread or discolor.

Don't stare at that crack or ding any longer. Call Joe Kersanac at 467-5136 or 1-800-748-8540 for a free estimate.

Pearl River's drum corps gains superior ratings

The Pearl River Community College marching drum section won superior ratings and captured the honor as best snare and cymbal line at the Mississippi Percussion Championship Nov. 14 at Hinds Community College in Raymond. PRCC also won second place overall in this year's event. "We were definitely the crowd favorite with our high energy, vocal effects and special effects, including the smoking drums," said Kyle Hill, assistant band director and director of percussion. The PRCC drum corps competed in the independent division with 15 high school lines from across Mississippi competing in the scholastic division. PRCC's indoor edition of the marching percussion session consisted of a variety of tunes from this year's halftime show, 'Peach Party '95.' Selections included 'Alice Coopers' School's Out,' an original rendition, written by Hill, based on the 1960s favorite 'Wipeout,' as well as a selection of cadences composed by University of Southern Mississippi percussion instructor Dr. John Wooten.

"The students in the percussion studio have been eager to form an indoor marching ensemble for several years," said Hill. "Pearl River has experienced tremendous growth in the percussion program and the competition gives us an opportunity to expand the variety of offerings in our program."

The annual event, sponsored by the Clinton High School Band, is a result of recent growth in the use of indoor marching percussion ensembles in the United States.

Local counselors attend conference

Barbara Cropp and Gloria Dean of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District joined more than 650 school counseling professionals from throughout the state at the Mississippi Counseling Association's annual conference held recently in Biloxi.

The professional improvement event included educational workshops, seminars and business meetings aimed at keeping counselors up-to-date and aware of educational requirements for youth and youth problems and solutions.

The Gulf Coast regional division of the Mississippi Counseling Association served as host for the visiting counselors. The Bay St. Louis-Waveland counselors attended skill building workshops covering a range of topics — ethics for counselors, alternative programs, individual student counseling techniques and family counseling.

The Mississippi Counseling Association is an organization dedicated to the growth and enhancement of the school counseling profession. It provides leadership training, continuing education opportunities and advocacy services for more than 1,000 members across the state.

"Creativity in Motion"

The Bay High School Choir, Creativity in Motion, is composed of 24 eighth graders under the direction of Mrs. Carol Clark. Participants are selected through audition only. Their first performance was Tuesday to a portion of students and staff at Bay Middle School. The 45-minute performance is to build positive self image, drug awareness and self-esteem, Jo-Dell Beckham, the system's drug-free program coordinator said. (Echo staff photo by Ellis C. Cuevas)

YMCA name contest

The Mississippi Gulf Coast YMCA is looking for a new name for its Long Beach/Pass Christian facility. YMCA officials announced in November that the Long Beach facility will dedicate itself full-time to the needs of area youth starting Jan. 1. Now the facility needs a new name to match its new image.

The contest will take place Dec. 11 through Jan. 12, and the winner will not only give the new Y a new name, but will additionally take home a shiny new bike, courtesy of area merchants. Contestants must live along the Mississippi Gulf Coast and be 18 years or younger.

Anyone interested in participating may write the following information on a postcard: name, address (including city and zip), age, school name and the suggested name for the Long Beach/Pass Christian Y.

Participants may enter as many times as they wish. Entry information may be dropped off at any Mississippi Gulf Coast YMCA or sent to 105.9 KISS-FM (sponsor of the contest) at 212 Debuys Road, Biloxi. MS 39531.

The "Name the Y" contest winner will be announced Jan. 15 at the facility's open house celebration, which will include a variety of events, including a free dance for youth from 5-8 p.m., sponsored by 105.9 KISS-FM.

Mississippi Gulf Coast YMCA officials made the decision to convert the Long Beach facility to a youth center as a result of the growing needs of children and families along the Mississippi Gulf Coast and the availability of other places in the area for adults to continue their fitness programs.

The conversion of the Y in Long Beach started Dec. 1. Immediate plans include some renovations, the expansion of current programs and the development of a Youth Advisory Board to help to determine the facility's future programming.

For additional information about the contest, call the Mississippi Gulf Coast YMCA main office at 872-7247.

The University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Coast again is sponsoring an amateur photo contest to give local photographers a chance to have their work grace the cover of the 1996-97 USM Gulf Coast Bulletin.

Shelia White, academic support and public relations specialist at USMGC, said the contest offers Gulf Coast residents who like to take pictures an opportunity to get some exposure for their talent and become involved in USMGC activities.

The Gulf Coast Bulletin contains class schedules and related student information for the academic year, White said.

The deadline for entry is Jan. 15, 1996. Photos can be scenes of life in south Mississippi or can be pictures of USMGC campus life, White said.

To enter, photographers should submit a mounted and matted photograph plus a 35mm slide to White at the Gulf Park Campus, 730 Eat Beach Blvd., Long Beach. MS 39560. White said vertical pictures will work best for the bulletin cover, but all entries will be considered. She said there is no limit on the number of entries submitted by an individual.

Other guidelines include:

property of USM and may be used in future publications. The university reserves the right to display the photographs throughout the campus, with photography credit given.

• Only amateur photographers are eligible. Amateur status refers to photographers who do not receive a major portion of income from photography.

• The photographer is responsible for all release forms on all subjects included in submitted photographs.

A committee composed of USMGC faculty and staff will judge entries and determine a winner. Winners will be notified in writing by Feb. 1.

For more information, contact White by calling (601) 865-4573.

Southern artists needed

The University of Mobile is calling for entries of original art pieces for the 5th annual presentation of "Art with a Southern Drawl."

This exhibit recognizes and awards southern artists working in any media in both representational and non-representational styles. Only original art will be considered, and work must be available for the duration of the show.

Applicants must be artists born in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi or Tennessee or currently living in these states. While this exhibit is limited to southern artists, art pieces are not restricted to a southern theme.

As many artists as possible will be recognized, and $3,400 in cash awards will be presented in the following areas: Best in Show ($1,000), Award of Excellence ($500), Spirit of the South ($400), Southern Humor ($300) and six merit awards $200 each.

The "Art with a Southern Drawl" exhibit will be at the University in Thomas T. Martin Hall from March 31 through April 30. All applications must be received by Jan. 13.

For information, contact the University of Mobile at (334) 675-5990, ext. 283.
